Dear Lick-Wilmerding Students:

I congratulate each of you on completing another year of study and growth, while simultaneously helping to make Lick-Wilmerding such a wonderfully dynamic educational institution. Each day as I orient myself to the various activities on the calendar, I am amazed by the various goings on at the school. A typical day often involves club meetings, discussions in the center, academic presentations and debates, screenings of student films, sporting events after school, and tutoring other students here at the school. This flurry of activity is a reflection of the passions and interests you bring to school each day.

This year will also be remembered for our move out of the bungalows in the “learning village,” into our new classroom building. The students have very much embraced the building and its many learning spaces.

Your commitment to each other and to the school also helps the institution live its mission each day. By helping others in need and through your service, Lick-Wilmerding students are healing practitioners as we seek ways to create a more just and healthy world. I thank you for your service to the school and to the world. Your work gives me hope that the skills you learn at LWHS will translate into concrete action in the future for the benefit of this precious planet.

Lastly, I thank Mr. Adanza and the editors of the yearbook for their hard work producing this year’s edition of The Tiger. Their dedication is yet another example of the spirit of service and care that permeates the school. I wish you each a peaceful and restful summer. Seniors, I thank you for your leadership of the school this year and wish you all the best as you head off to your next adventures. My hope for you is that you continue to love to learn, and that you are confident in your own abilities. Please keep in touch and visit often.

Kind regards,

Eric Temple
Head of School

New Building

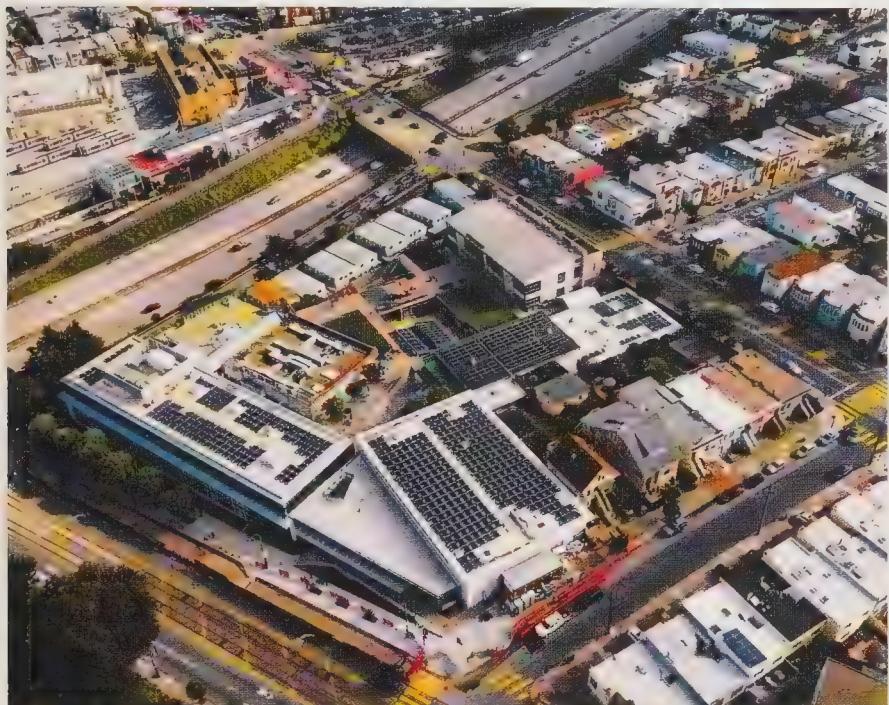

The beginning of the year is always an exciting time. Students and teachers alike come back refreshed from the summer, the new year brimming with hope and potential. As a new freshman class enters the mix, the air is crisp with the sense of opportunity.

But, for the students here at LWHS, there was an especially exciting thing that came with the new school year: the new building. After the grand opening was postponed for a few weeks, the new building was finally opened to students, the ribbon was finally cut by Student Council Co-Presidents Sara Kashani-Sabet '19 and Eddie Dilworth '19, whose joyful facial expressions portrayed the excitement of the student body. Juliana Lamm Perez '21 describes, "When I walked in the first day, I was amazed by how big, when you first walk in, the ceilings and the staircase to the left, the wooden one and the view to the outside. I thought that was really cool. And I didn't really know what to expect because I hadn't seen the building at all, so I was really amazed and I was happy to have it." Feelings of excitement ran high, as one student described, "I've been looking forward to this building for the past 2 years, so I was really excited no matter the color. I was just really excited."

As we move forward, one thing is certain: the new buildings are liked. So when you get a chance, ask a fellow student, and they can tell you where the best spots to hang out in the new building are. They'd be happy to.

Enjoy every moment of high school, because you blink and suddenly you are in your cap and gown, graduating with your class and wondering where the time went.

GSA

GSA's (Gay-Straight Alliance's) mission statement is: To work with allies in order to make LWHS an inclusive and safe space for all LGBTQIA+ people, as well as educating people about LGBTQIA+ history, terminology, and culture. We will work with student leaders and administrators around the school to make LWHS the safest place it can be for people of all sexualities, gender identities, and gender expressions. We will plan events, work with other AM clubs, and provide education about LGBTQIA+ issues to the LWHS community.

Clubs at LWHS

This year, clubs were an integral part of life at LWHS. While some served as places to bond over common interests, others were affinity spaces, where students that shared core identifiers like race, gender, and sexuality, came together over their common experiences.

Halloween

This year's Halloween at Lick was on a beautiful sunny October Day. There was candy, a costume contest, and a Peer Connect scavenger hunt. Some memorable costumes from movies, books and TV shows were the cast of Phineas and Ferb, Winnie the Pooh, Monsters Inc, and The Office.
